

TB Modelling and Analysis Consortium

Dear <<First Name>>,

Welcome to the latest TB Modelling and Analysis Consortium (TB MAC) newsletter, with information for TB modellers, epidemiologists, and decision-makers. Please see below for job and fellowship opportunities.

Job opportunity: Postdoctoral Associate, School of Public Health, Boston University

Boston University is looking for a Postdoctoral Associate to work in the areas of infectious disease modeling (specifically applied to tuberculosis and COVID-19) and/or surveillance and monitoring of substance use disorders. The position will allow for the development and implementation of advanced, innovative statistical and machine learning approaches in one or both of these areas of application.

Additionally the position will allow for mentoring and supervision of doctoral and/or MS students. For more information on the job requirements and to apply, please see this link.

Job opportunity: Doctoral Fellowship in Health Economics Modelling, Health Economics and Epidemiology Research Office (HE2RO) and the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine (LSHTM) [Deadline: 10 March 2023]

On behalf of the TB Sequel consortium, HE2RO and LSHTM are working in partnership to offer a Doctoral Fellowship funded by Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF). Applicants must have a Masters degree in epidemiology, health economics, mathematics, physics or a related quantitative field and if not a South African citizen, should have a valid study permit for South Africa. Candidates must have obtained their Master's degree in the last 5 years and a relevant publication record will be advantageous. For more information on the application requirements and to apply, please see this link.

As always, please email us with relevant news for the community and let us know if you have any recently published TB modelling papers that you would like us to highlight in our future newsletters, email us with details.

For more information on TB MAC, or to get involved, please contact any of the TB MAC Committee, visit www.tb-mac.org or email us directly at tb-mac@lshtm.ac.uk.

Best wishes,

Richard, Finn, Christina and the TB MAC Committee
